

Forget about platforms. Set your content free.

Amplify.

- Feature your best content across pages and sites
- Get more exposure for major announcements
- Mix content inline or feature separately

Automate.

- One click adds content to PushHub from your CMS
- Change once; instantly update everywhere
- Single (canonical) source protects SEO

Delegate.

- Empower your site managers to pick their content
- Never worry about an out-of-date copy again
- No central management required

PushHub currently supports Plone and Drupal, with WordPress coming next. Custom connectors can also be built for other systems.

PushHub can share:

- Major news items
- Upcoming events/seminars
- Funding announcements
- Cross-departmental articles
- and much more...

“We are really excited about PushHub’s ability to manage shared content across hundreds of sites for us. It’s going to save time and money while providing better access to our content.”

- Albert Wu, Senior Director, Information Management Services at a major research university in Southern California
