where sophisticated web projects thrive

Forget about platforms. Set your content free.

Amplify.

- Feature your best content across pages and sites
- Get more exposure for major announcements
- Mix content inline or feature separately

Automate.

- One click adds content to PushHub from any platform
- Change once; instantly update everywhere
- Single (canonical) source protects SEO

Delegate.

- Empower your site managers to pick their content
- Never worry about an out-of-date copy again
- No central management required

PushHub can share:

- Major news items
- Upcoming events/seminars
- Funding announcements
- Cross-departmental articles
- and much more...

> "We are really excited about PushHub's ability to manage shared content across hundreds of sites for us. It's going to save time and money while providing better access to our content."
> - Albert Wu, Senior Director, Information Management Services at a major research university in Southern California
